Scope and Impact

a. Consequence of Error: ITSD is responsible for delivering high-quality technology services and solutions that enable the business to achieve its goals and objectives. With over 1,000 staff located in offices throughout the state, the Lottery's sole mission is to provide supplemental funding for California's public schools and colleges. While the Lottery is a public agency, it receives no public funding. Instead, all operating and administrative expenses are raised through the responsible sales of our games. Disruptions that impact revenue generation would significantly affect the Lottery's ability to achieve its mission. In addition, incorrect data supplied to executives, upon which members rely for decision-making criteria, and/or unsupported recommended approaches or solutions could result in wasted resources and inefficient use of Lottery resources. Negative decisions on mission critical Lottery systems could result in outages where such failures would be a significant embarrassment to the Lottery, the Governor, and the state.

   Errors, incomplete staff work, poor recommendations, and/ or poor decisions may result in the loss of or disruption of major service to customers and/or the inability of ITSD to meet business needs. As appropriate, staff must be available to respond to service outages that affect daily operations to ensure business continuity.

b. Administrative Responsibility: The Lead Service Desk Technician will assist with the training of any new personnel for the unit.

c. Supervision Exercised and Received: The Lead Service Desk Technician is under direction of and receives most assignments from the Service Desk & Field Support Supervisor; direction and assignments may also come from the extended ITSD management team. This position does not supervise others.

d. Personal Contacts: The Lead Service Desk Technician interacts with various levels of Lottery executives, managers, stakeholders, business areas, staff, vendors and consultants, and other state agencies.

Physical and Environmental Demands

The Lead Service Desk Technician is required to lift and move PC equipment (which can weigh 30 pounds or more) using a wheeled cart.

The Lead Service Desk Technician will work in a fast-paced environment, with competing priorities, and critical deliverables.
